

Hell, Yes It Really Does Exist
ABT – August 15, 2010
Pastor Ed Holland

Texts: Matthew 13:47-51 and Luke 16:19-31

Introduction: Jesus Christ preached more on Hell than He did on Heaven.

- Jesus taught that everyone would be held accountable.
- Jesus taught that people would be divided into two groups.
- Jesus taught those who are saved would go to heaven and those who have rejected salvation will go to hell.

1. Hell, yes there will be physical suffering

“And cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be wailing and gnashing of teeth.” Matthew 13:50

“Then he cried and said, ... have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in the water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.” Luke 16:24

2. Hell, yes there will be mental and emotional suffering

“...remember that in your lifetime you received your good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted and you are tormented.” Luke 16:25

- You will remember those who you wronged in your life
- You will remember the chances you had to be saved

3. Hell, yes there will be relational suffering

“For I have five brothers, that he may testify to them, lest they also come to his place of torment.” Luke 16:28

If I really believe in Hell:

- I will believe in Jesus Christ if I have never been saved.
- I will praise God if I have been saved from this awful place.
- I will live my life on a mission to rescue all I possibly can.
